Meet the Doctor

Christian S. Lopez, MD, MS, FACC

Christian S. Lopez, MD, MS, FACC

Dr. Christian S. Lopez, MD, MS, FACC is an experienced and highly accomplished non-invasive cardiologist in Maricopa County, AZ, specifically the vibrant Phoenix metropolitan area and its multiple Healthcare systems. He received his medical and Cardiology degrees from Temple University Medical Center in Philadelphia, PA, and has been in private practice since 2012. He moved to Arizona from Chicago, IL, in 2015 and continued both outpatient and inpatient cardiology services, serving as a Chair of Internal Medicine, Cardiology Medical Director, and a Member of the Medical Executive Committee during his time in the Abrazo & HonorHealth Hospital systems.

In addition to his experience in hypertension, dyslipidemia, coronary and peripheral arterial disease, heart failure, heart arrhythmias, pacemakers & other cardiac medical devices, non-invasive Electrophysiology, and syncope/autonomic dysfunction, he is proficient in the interpretation of advanced non-invasive cardiac testing such as echocardiography, stress testing, electrocardiograms (EKGs), and cardiac device monitoring/management.

With a focus on preventative Cardiology, he tailors personalized treatment plans that prioritize patient-centered outcomes and underscores his commitment to evidence-based, integrative approaches, blending conventional cardiology with naturopathic principles to promote holistic patient wellness and longevity. He fervently advocates proactive care over reactive treatment and emphasizes prevention as the cornerstone of heart health, empowering patients through education, lifestyle modifications, and diagnostic testing interpretation.

Providing out-patient Cardiology Consultation services only, Dr. Lopez is available to both new and returning patients with convenient telehealth and home-visit options when appropriate. Be it close management of chronic cardiovascular diseases or primary prevention of future major cardiovascular adverse events, he invites you to experience the difference of a truly personalized out-patient cardiology services — schedule your consultation today.
